BIOGRAPHY - 525 WORDS

Cited in The Washington Post as “one of the top 35 female composers in classical music,” Laura Kaminsky frequently addresses critical social and political issues in her work, including sustainability, war, and human rights. She possesses “an ear for the new and interesting” (The New York Times) and “her music is full of fire as well as ice, contrasting dissonance and violence with tonal beauty and meditative reflection. It is strong stuff.” (American Record Guide).

Her first opera, As One, (2014; co-librettists Mark Campbell & Kimberly Reed) is the most widely-produced contemporary opera in North America since the 2016-17 season, with almost three dozen different productions to its credit. “As One is a piece that haunts and challenges its audience with questions about identity, authenticity, compassion, and the human desire for self-love and peace” (Opera News). The As One team has since been commissioned twice — by Houston Grand Opera for Some Light Emerges (2017) and Opera Parallèle/American Opera Projects for Today It Rains that premiered in San Francisco’s Z Space (2019).

She is currently working on a new opera with Reed, Hometown to the World, inspired by the devastating Immigration and Customs Enforcement raid in Postville, IA in 2008, commissioned by the Opera For All Voices Consortium, led by Santa Fe and San Francisco Operas, for a fall 2020 San Francisco premiere. Her Piano Quintet for Ursula Oppens and the Cassatt String Quartet will soon be recorded along with her Piano Concerto, Fantasy, and a new work for piano four-hands for an Oppens Plays Kaminsky cd.
